Pipeline Brings Prosperity Says NewsweekArticle

Colonial Pipeline which put a segment of their gigantic oil products pipe through Appomattox county this summer plans to have the Houston to Greensboro, N. C. section operating before October, with the "whole line operating by early spring,' according to Ben D. Leuty, Colonial's president.

An article about the pipeline in Newsweek last month prompted a TIMES-VIRGINIAN reader Jeddos S. Kinney, of Route 3, to send it along to the editor for possible reprinting. Appomattox, remembering the housing shortage while pipeliners were in town may agree quite readily with the writer of the Article when he said:

"The long, gritty hours required to lay such pipelines as the Colonial have spawned a Spartan-like band of pipeline technicians who may be in Texas one year, Africa the next, and Virginia the next. Usually bone-weary when they shuffle home to the families they've parked in nearby motels or trailer camps, pipeliners, says one one merchant, 'these are people I'd like to see stay here.'

Colonial's president Leuty, in discussing Colonial's position in the national economy said, 'We think we're a good lawful activity. We're going to be competitive with railroads, tankers, barges, and other pipelines. If we didn't have competition, we'd still be in the horse and buggy.'

Smokey Visits Pamplin

Smokey Bear paid a visit to Pamplin Elementary School to talk about Fire Prevention and Use of Our Forest Lands. A moving "flame" which appeared to devour trees and leave behind burned stumps and underbrush made the annual visit even more impressive. Shown above with the ever popular Smokey are Hal Smith, Nancy Coleman, Joan Wright, Carla Warner, Phillip Rice, and Robert Kress. Smokey was accompanied by Maynard Stoddard, assistant district forester. during their visits to Appomattox Elementary, Carver-Price School, Oakville, Vera, and Pamplin. Fire Warden David Smith said that additional fire prevention programs will be given at Mt. Airy, Stonewall Elementary, and Spout Spring schools.

Dog Days

This is National Dog Week. Sept. 22-28. And as one put it, this week:

Dogs, like women's clothing come in many different sizes, colors and shapes, and popularity for different styles in every changing. Some persons just wouldn't be seen with a last year's dog.

A FEW YEARS back it was the spitzs, cockers and scotties which were in vogue. The fancy of dog owners now tend toward dachshunds, poodles and beagles.

Of course the old standard breeds — shepherds, boxers, and collies — are still popular.

And possibly the most popular of all is the just-plain-dog that is acquired for a boy or girl.

So far, this year, county Treasurer Garland Plunkett's office has sold 2,057 dog licenses along with 47 licenses for 20-dog kennels.

Bookcase Bargain Includes Youth's Civil War Book

A "bargain bookcase" purchased by Clayton Beale, of Pamplin, manager of the Appomattox School cannery, includes a "Youth's History of the Great Civil War" — now 99 years old. The account of the great war was written by R. G. Horton, evidently a Southerner or one very sympathetic to the Confederacy. The handwriting of the book's owner is not too clear, but it appears to be "T. S. Wattersley", 1867.

With the end of the War less than a year old, Horton writes: "The Southern people who fought so long and so gallantly to roll back the tide of Abolitionism . . . will find in this volume . . . encouragement."

"Finally, . . . this little volume is commended in the confident hope that out of the gloom of the present the grand old Union of Washington and Jefferson will yet arise, and wiping away the tears and blood of the past, live for ages to cheer mankind with its blessings."

Horton describes the surrender as a "sad and touching sight", that took place in a "farmhouse" on "April 10, 1865." and has many interesting comments to make about the war.

Beale has had the bookcase more than 20 years. It contains old spellers, arithmetic books, and others.

Tobacco Market Tips

ROY B. DAVIS, JR.
MARKETING AGENT

Exports of U. S. fine-cured tobacco during this marketing year are expected to be substantially above volume of last year.

Fine-cured exports for the year ending on June 30, 1963, dropped 12.3 per cent below year earlier levels and was the lowest since the 1949 marketing year. The poorer-than-average quality of the 1962 crop was cited by USDA reports as having contributed to the decline.

* * *

Last of the 1955 crop has been sold, according to L. T. Weeks, General Manager of the Flue-cured Tobacco Stabilization Corporation. The remaining stocks were sold on September 14. On that date only 1.8 million pounds of the 1956 crop remained on hand.

By mid-September, 134 million pounds of old crop tobacco had been sold this year. This compares with 32 million sold during the same period a year ago. Stocks of old crop tobacco have been reduced to 438 million pounds.

Receipts of the 1963 crop through September 12 amounted to 35 million pounds compared with 40 million for the same period a year ago. Heavier marketings of low quality lugs, primings, and nondescript when compared with 1962 appears to be the reason for the increased take. Receipts through September 6 show a higher proportion of these grades in the loan take than are found in a normal crop. Smoking leaf grades were running well below the percentage of the crop computed in these grades. This indicates a high degree of acceptance of these grades in the market.

Expect great things from Chevrolet again for '64
Today...Jet-smooth Luxury '64 CHEVROLET
'64 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan—one of 15 Jet-smooth luxury Chevrolets.
Chevrolet was luxurious before, but you should see it now. With smart new styling, the '64 Chevrolet looks even longer (but isn't). There's even a whole new series this year—the Impala Super Sports—with front bucket seats as standard equipment. (The new Impalas and Bel Airs are more luxurious, too. Even the lowest priced Biscaynes have new foam-cushioned seats front and rear and are fully carpeted.) Of course, you expect more than just luxury from Chevrolet. A choice of 16 power teams, for instance—a 6 and six V8's up to 425-hp (optional at extra cost). And quieter transmissions. Jet-smooth ride with Full Coil suspension. Flush-and-dry rocker panels, Delcotron generator, self-adjusting brakes and other low-upkeep features. If you've ever wondered how luxurious Chevrolet could get—with all the extra-cost options there are to choose from—that seems to be entirely up to you.
Take your first look at the first CHEVELLE!
CHEVELLE! by Chevrolet
New Chevelle Malibu Super Sport Coupe—one of 11 models in three great series.
You've never seen anything like this totally new line of cars before. Chevelle is new in everything but Chevrolet quality. Chevelle is a good foot shorter than the big cars, so it parks easily. Yet the interior dimensions of its Body by Fisher provide a generous amount of head, leg and shoulder room. (Chevelle's trunk is big and roomy, too.) The ride is surprisingly smooth with a rugged coil spring at all four wheels. And not so surprisingly for Chevrolet, the new Chevelle offers a choice of engines ranging from an economical 120-hp 6 to a 220-hp V8 (optional at extra cost.) Choose the Chevelle you like best from the three series—the Malibu Super Sport, the Malibu and the 300 Series, eleven models in all—at your Chevrolet dealer's.
